The Calgary Herald and consequently its Edmonton reprint are renewing their attentions to the editor of the BULLETIN. As the BULLETIN does not exist to advertise its editor these little kindnesses of the Herald are the more appreciated. In making clear that the editor of this paper does not stand well in their opinions they are doing their little best to recommend him to the most favorable consideration of the intelligent public.

The October number of the Canadian Magazine has a number of illustrated articles on timely topics. Lord Wolseley by Lieut.-Col. G. T. Dennison's "Around Esquimalt and Victoria." "IN ACADIA" and "Our Western Heritage," the latter by the well known Geo. H. Ham. There are a large number of excellent short stories and sketches besides, the whole making a very interesting number.

JOHN FREDERICK, of Leduc, was in town on Friday. He is threshing in the Clearwater settlement with Mr. Latem, and reports oats generally a good crop and good sample, barley is a fair crop but the sample is not as good. Part of the wheat is damaged and part is good. Only a comparatively small acreage of wheat was sown. In the settlement southeast of Leduc where Mr. Frederick lives the crops are about the same. His own crop was destroyed by hail.

THE close season for whitefish began on Saturday last and ends on Nov. 15th. W. D. Matheson, local fishery inspector, returns on Tuesday from a visit to Lac la Nonne, Lake St. Ann and White Whale lake. F. Dumont has been appointed overseer for the three lakes during the close season. The white whale Indians are permitted to fish during the close season, but no one may fish in the other two lakes. Young fish are becoming numerous in Lake St. Ann, which the inspector thinks is the result of the enforcement of the close season in the past year by the police.

A SOCIAL in aid of the Methodist church was given by the ladies of that church in the offices of N. G. Flater and Dr. Goodwin over the Imperial bank, on Friday evening last. There was a good attendance. Refreshments were served and a very pleasant evening spent. The funds of the church benefited to the extent of fifteen dollars.

W. A. FRASER, manager of the government oil boring operations at the Landing, arrived yesterday evening. He brings a part of the boring outfit for repair, and will have to take it east for the purpose. Operations will be recommended as soon as it is returned to the Landing, and will be continued as long as the weather will permit. Mr. Fraser goes east in the morning and will not return this fall.

The annual rifle matches of the Fort Saskatchewan rifle association took place on Thursday and Friday last. There were some seventeen competitors. The matches were very interesting and excellent shooting was done. Constable Leroy took all the firsts but one, and several possible were made. A dinner was given in the Mansion house on Friday night which was a very enjoyable affair. Mr. Ferguson, president of the association, occupied the chair and F. F. Tims, M. L. A., the vice-chair. Some twenty guests were present.

On Thursday night last Isaac Hunter, who was formerly employed in the Bulletin office and is now farming in the Sturgeon river settlements, lost his stable, granary, wagon, harness, three pigs and some fowls by fire. He brought home a load of hay in the evening about eight o'clock, and hauled it close to the stable so as to be unloaded in the morning. About eleven o'clock the hay on the wagon and the stable were seen to be on fire. He was then to late to save anything from the stable and all that could be done was to keep the fire from spreading to the grain stacks near by. The cause of the fire is unknown.

BISHOP YOUNG, of Athabasca, arrived from the Landing on Saturday on a short visit to Edmonton. He will return north in a day or two and will reside at the Landing all winter, it having been fixed as the head of the diocese. Bishop Young has just completed a trip throughout his extensive diocese from Athabasca Landing to Fort Chipewyan on lake Athabasca where there is an important mission under his charge. Thence up Peace river to Ft. Vermillion, where there is also an important mission.

Messrs. Henry and Eugene Lawrence had reached home after their visit to Edmonton before Bishop Young's visit, the former having with him a turbine wheel and machinery for a small grist mill. When this mill is fitted up there will be three mills in the Vermillion settlement—a Waterous steam mill owned by E. J. Lawrence, a windmill owned by the Roman Catholic mission and Henry Lawrence's water mill.

Crops at Vermillion were good, there having been sufficient rain and no injury by frost. Terrible fires were raging throughout the wooded country of the north along the line of the bishop's travels, destroying an innumerable amount of timber, much of it suitable for commercial purposes.

While he was at Vermillion the smoke was so dense that the sun was not seen for days and one particular day was as dark as if there had been an eclipse. For many miles along the Peace river above and below burnt spruce needles formed a bank several inches high at the water line.

At the mission established by Rev. Mr. Brick near the mouth of Smoky river on the Upper Peace the crops were a total failure owing to drouth in the part of the season.

REV. FATHER GRANDIN arrived on Friday from Lac la Biche to superintend the freighting out to that settlement of a 17 horse threshing engine and separator which the mission there has purchased for use in the settlement. The mission already has a small water power saw and grist mill, but owing to low water the mills have not been able to run for the past year or two. The threshing engine will be used to furnish power for the grist and saw mill during the winter. The crops were light this season at the lake owing to the dry season, but the quality of the grain was good as always at the lake, being untouched by frost.

The Rev. Father says that the rigid enforcement of the regulations prohibiting the catching of whitefish between the 5th of October and the 15th of November—the season during which the poorer people must necessarily catch their winter supply of food—is certain to cause great hardship during the coming winter.

There are other fishing lakes near Lac la Biche from which these people could have secured their supplies instead of Lac la Biche had they been allowed, and still have relieved Lac la Biche for this season, but they have been prohibited from fishing in these lakes as well as in Lac la Biche.

As a consequence some fifteen families have left the settlement and gone far north into the woods in search of other fishing lakes where the officials of the government cannot reach them.

There are some who are too poor to go north and they must either subsist on charity during the winter or die of starvation, for it is not possible to catch enough fish during the winter to supply the people with food.

Of course some of the settlers have grain and cattle that they can live on well enough without fish, but many who have depended on fish to help out their living will now have to kill cattle that they can ill spare, which will leave some of them another winter without cattle to kill.

TRAIN 20 minutes late at Olds.

The fire engine is out to-day to fill the tank at the H. B. store from those at the Imperial bank.

A CHARITY ball in aid of the new hospital is being gotten up. It will probably take place about Nov. 1st.

W. A. FRASER, of the government oil boring party at the Landing came in last night. Operations are suspended for a time.

REV. G. W. DEAN leaves to-morrow to attend the meeting of the home mission board of the Manitoba conference in Brandon on the 23rd.

MRS. McDougall, senior, of Morley, arrived on Saturday from the Landing where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Wood.

BUTTER is plentiful at 15c to 20c for choice roll and 12½c to 18c for tub. But many farmers are holding their choice tub butter for better prices. Eggs are in brisk demand at 20c a dozen.

The new Presbyterian church at Fort Saskatchewan was formally opened yesterday. Rev. D. G. McQueen, of Edmonton, assisted at the services. Musical and literary entertainment this evening in connection with the church in which several ladies and gentlemen from Edmonton and South Edmonton will take part.

GRAIN is coming in slowly yet. Wheat has been bought by the mills at about 50 cents for the very best. Oats are only being bought for home consumption as yet, as the quantity likely to be brought in before the ground freezes to stop fall plowing would not warrant buyers for shipment in opening business. The price paid is from 15c to 20c the former being the lowest price ever yet offered for oats at Edmonton at any season.

ST. ALBERT ELECTION.

C., for defendant.

EDMONTON BULLETIN, OCTOBER 14TH, 1895.

RAILWAY CONNECTION.

The return of the delegates of the town regarding railway connection for Edmonton and their report brings up again prominently the questions: Does Edmonton want railway connection? How close is the connection wanted? How much is Edmonton willing and able to pay to secure such connection as may be considered desirable? and What is the best and cheapest means by which that connection can be brought about? When the delegation left for the East the BULLETIN had this to say:

"Up to a certain point we know exactly where we stand in regard to a spur track. We know the grades and the route and have a rough estimate of the cost of construction, and the assurance of the railway company that if the road is constructed it will be operated for freight. No doubt it would be a good thing if we could get the promise of the C. P. R. to assist in the construction of the road, to keep it in repair, and to operate it for passenger traffic as well as freight. If the delegation can improve our position on either of these points the delay may be justified, but if not the sending of the delegation is no reasonable ground for delay. The effort to secure a railway bridge could best be backed up by actual construction of the spur track. All parties could then see that the town meant business, and would be more inclined to talk business to the delegates. Talk is cheap and as long as Edmonton talks and does nothing so long those to whom we look for assistance will do the same."

From the report of the delegates published in full in last issue it does not appear that the situation is any different now from what it was then, except that a season has passed with nothing done and that the mission of the delegation has surely proven conclusively to all that whatever railway advantages Edmonton wants Edmonton will simply have to pay for. That neither the government nor the railway company, or powers seen or unseen, intend to expend their money to better our position. If it is finally settled—as the report of the delegation would indicate—that we must pay for what we get, it is for us to decide first what we want and next to count the cost. To do the one without the other would be worse than useless, it would be dangerous if not suicidal. We cannot afford to go into any scheme no matter how promising that we cannot cope with financially. We cannot afford to experiment in schemes. We cannot afford to run here and there for advice, for the advice we would get would be apt to be interested. It is our interests that are at stake, our money that is to be spent and our own judgment, after arriving at a full knowledge of the facts, our only safe guide. If we are to wait for improved railway connection until the government sees fit to build or arrange for the building of a railway bridge we may have to wait a long time, if the premier's plain statement to an audience in Edmonton during his recent visit is to be taken as true—and no one doubts its truth. While it would be altogether desirable to get the railway to this side of the river, there is no need to delay the improvement of our present position until a railway bridge is built. It was universally conceded last spring that our position would be greatly improved if the railway were extended to the flat opposite town. If there could have been any doubt about that in the spring there can be none this fall. It is the grain trade that makes the extension of the railway necessary. For the passenger and ordinary freight traffic the present station answers the purposes of Edmonton fairly well. At any rate Edmonton has flourished very satisfactorily since the construction of the railway and the establishment of the station at its present site. But the case is not the same in regard to the export grain trade. Special facilities are required for carrying on this trade, which is already very important in this district and will soon exceed all others. If Edmonton is to handle this trade it must have railway facilities. And the facilities that would be most to its present advantage would be an extension of the railway to the Mill flat. During the season when most of the grain is delivered the river is bridged at all the rival sites, so that the bridge question scarcely enters into consideration. But if the track were built to the flat at the lower bridge site we would surely have the strongest claim we possibly could have—and an immeasurably stronger one than we have to-day—for a railway bridge. To build to the flat would be to do the very best that could be done to secure the coveted railway bridge and in any case would secure the site for the traffic bridge. A charter exists under which this piece of road could be constructed, and if at any time the railway company refused to operate it, it could be operated by electricity. If there is any doubt as to the line surveyed by Mr. Bruce being the best possible let another be surveyed, and a detailed estimate of cost be secured, such as was not given by Mr. Bruce and without which we are very much in the dark as the actual cost of building on his survey. When an expenditure of $20,000 to $40,000 is involved it is poor economy to start work without the fullest information, secured at first hand by those who have to pay the money.

One thing should be well understood in this connection, namely, that there is or ought to be no money in the operation of any proposed railway extension to or into Edmonton for anyone. The charges for traffic would be charges on the business of the town, and therefore if the railway were not to be an injury instead of a benefit the charges if any must be only such as would cover expenses. This being the case it is in the last degree necessary that whatever is done shall be kept under the town's control. Or, as is often the case, what is paid for to be a benefit and a gain may become an injury and a loss.

The Calgary Herald, of October 8th, has something to say about the BULLETIN's criticism of that valuable literary production the report of the freight rates commission. The Herald meets the arguments of the BULLETIN as follows: "The BULLETIN is evidently the victim of some huge deception. Enquiry from a member of the commission itself brings the response that he has not seen a printed copy of the report and that the last advice he had from Ottawa was that it was not yet out of the printer's hands. It appears to be a case of the BULLETIN 'crying before it was hurt.' The BULLETIN can quite believe that the report alluded to has not been seen by the Herald and possibly not by the commissioner alluded to—although this latter requires a good deal of both faith and charity—for it is quite evident that the report was printed in its present shape strictly for eastern and not western circulation. At the present moment there is lying on the BULLETIN table a blue book, marked in the lower left hand corner 'No. 39-1895' and the title reads 'Report of the Railway Rates Commissioner, 7th May, 1895. Printed by order of parliament, (Royal arms) Ottawa, printed by S. E. Dawson, printer to the Queen's most excellent Majesty, 1895,' and the contents of the book are exactly as stated in the BULLETIN editorial. The Herald's Edmonton end may verify the above by sending its editor three minutes walk to this office. What makes the denial of the existence of the report particularly refreshing is that when the report was issued it was freely commented on by the papers throughout the country, the Herald among the number; although it is a fact that it did not receive that circulation in the west even yet that other blue books do. A more scandalous attempt to unfairly prejudice eastern opinion against western interests was never made than in this report and the manner in which it has been handled.

Lieutenant-governor Patterson was expected to leave Ottawa for Winnipeg on Oct. 9th. A Globe's Ottawa dispatch of Oct. 8th says that efforts are being made to get Oulmet to exchange places with Chapleau, now lieutenant-governor of Quebec, who would take Oulmet's portfolio of public works and help the party through the coming elections in Quebec.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

REGINA, Sept. 26th, '95.
The house held its first morning sitting for this session this morning, the speaker taking the chair at 10:30 o'clock.

THRESHERS' LIENS.

Mr. Mitchell moved the second reading of the threshers' liens bill. He explained that many farmers in the country had got into difficulties and executions were issued against them, or there were chattel mortgages, bills of sale, conveyances made by the farmer, or rights of rents reserved upon the land upon which grain is threshed. The thresher knowing all this, and fearing he will not get paid for threshing out the grain, refused to do the work and the result was bad for the farmers. To prevent this condition of affairs the bill proposed that the thresher should have first claim over all mortgages or executions.

The bill thereupon passed second reading.

THE EDUCATION BILL.

Going into committee of the whole, the school ordinance consolidation and amendment bill was again considered.

Mr. Oliver raised the question of homework for the younger children. He strongly objected to homework being imposed upon children, say up to the third standard. He thought it was little use regulating the hours of study inside the school unless they regulate them outside of school. In the case of young children homework caused grave injury.

Mr. Haultain remarked that the programme of study in the lower classes was a school of instruction in itself without homework being necessary.

Mr. Mowat believed there had been too much home study in the standards above the third. There had been too much of the system of cram for grant purposes.

The matter was allowed to drop.

TAXATION EXEMPTIONS.

Mr. Insinger secured the insertion of the following among the exemption clauses for taxation purposes: "Buildings used for church purposes and not for hire or reward, and the lot or lots whereon they stand not exceeding half an acre, except such part as may have other buildings thereon."

On motion of Mr. Haultain the following exemption clause was adopted: "The annual income of any person derived from his personal earnings provided the same does not exceed $600."

Mr. Chinkskill: Does that mean that a person earning $1000 would be taxed with $400 and exempt from $600?

Mr. Haultain: Yes.

AGRICOLA.

Mr. T. Brigham, Webster, South Dakota, has returned to his home to arrange for the removal of his family to the Beaver Lake district. He has spent the summer here and is much pleased with the country.

The road between townships 53, and 54 range 22 is now completed, much to satisfaction of the settlers, as it saves a very considerable detour.

Many complaints are made about the state of the trail on the banks of the creeks on the south side of the river. If these hills were graded so as to make the ascents easier it would be a great advantage to the farmers in this neighborhood, many of whom have to team considerable quantities of grain to the mills. Residents of townships 52, range 24, should wake up and see that the necessary improvements are made. Compulsory statute labor is advisable and it is to be hoped that it will soon be enforced by law.

POPLAR LAKE.

The crops are now all secured in this community and not much the worse of the rough weather we had a fortnight ago.

Threshing began at T. G. Hutchings' on Saturday.

Our new school was opened a fortnight ago by the teacher and pupils quietly taking possession. It has been seated for 40 pupils. Desks were bought from Mr. Blaney, Edmonton. If required there is room for twenty more pupils.

Black leg has again appeared in our locality, this time in Mr. A. Hutchings' band. He lost several calves by it.

Oct. 7th, 1895.

SOUTH EDMONTON RACES.

On Monday forenoon there was a trotting race and two running races held in connection with the fair. The trotting race was between Tindall's "Jim Mitchell" and McLean's, "Olio", three heats, best two in three, Jim Mitchell winning easily in two straight heats. Best time 3:10. In the mile dash Boyce's "Honest Tom", Fieles' "Fairholme" and Daniel's, "Joe". The race was won by Honest Tom, with Joe second and Fairholme last with the second and third horse lapping the first and second; no time taken. The mile dash was contested for by the same horses and Honest Tom after a very closely contested race again won, taking the wire from Fairholme by a neck with Joe two or three lengths in the rear. Time 2:04.

A CORRECTION.

BELLEVILLE ONT. 23rd Sept. 1895.
MR. EDITOR. In your issue of the 16th inst. I notice a serious libel on the good name of our efficient Police force, and as we are sure you had no intention of circulating a false report, the insertion of the location of the Police investigation referred to is probably a clerical error, possibly copied from another paper.

There has been no such investigation or report to the council of the city of Belleville Ontario, and we hope you will give this contradiction as wide a circulation as the original article referred to.

J. E. WALMSEY.

Mayor of Belleville, Ont.

The item referred to in the above communication was a clipping from an eastern exchange, and probably referred to one of the Bellevilles in the United States, of which there are two or three.—Editor.

John Lang, a young farmer who lived near Denfield, ten miles from Lucan, Ont., took his sweetheart, a Miss Robinson, sixteen years of age for a drive on Sunday evening, Oct. 7th. He cut her throat so that she will almost certainly die and then killed himself by cutting his own throat.

TOWN COUNCIL.

Wednesday, Oct. 9th.
Communications were received from the North Pacific Flour Mill Co., flour mill; Hudson's Bay Company, addition to collector's roll; A. G. Randall, addition to collector's roll; G. J. Kinnaird, advertising boards.

Edmiston—Strang. That the communication from the North Pacific Flour Mill Co. be referred to a committee consisting of Councillors Cameron and Picard for reply.

Picard—Bellamy. That the following property and persons be added to the collector's roll for 1895.

J. H. Picard lot 32, block 31, river lot 12, $275.

H. B. Co. lots 61 and 62, block 5, H. B. reserve, $350 each.

C. W. Bacon, lot 16, block 1, river lot 10, $275.

Edmiston—Picard. That the assessed valuation of lots 61 and 62, block 5, H. B. reserve at $350 each stands.

T. A. Stephen appeared and stated that he never had grain to the amount of $500 in his warehouse. That the most he had at any one time was from $300 to $350, and that the average amount of grain would be about $200.

Strang—Cameron. That T. A. Stephen be added to the collectors' roll for 1895 for the sum of $250, being the average value of grain in stock as per his statement.

Strang—Bellamy. That G. J. Kinnaird be informed that the council do not see their way clear to give him permission to put up advertising boards on the public streets as requested in his letter.

The fire, water and light committee reported that two electric lights were lacking at the post office, and one east of Robertson Hall.

Edmiston—Bellamy. That the electric light company be notified to replace the street lights now wanting, and that they be advised that deductions will be made if lights are not kept burning as per contract.

The health and relief committee presented the report of the medical health officer. The officer reports that he has inspected the new general hospital as to sewage and ventilation and finds they are the best that can be had. Also that the gutters on each side of the street are being blocked by the telephone line men, so that water will not run off in spring. No cases of infectious or contagious diseases have been reported.

Bellamy—Strang. That the report of the health and relief committee be adopted, and the parties concerned notified.

The board of works reported as follows: "That the owners of property in front of which the sisters of charity ask for a sidewalk leading to the hospital, decline to sign a petition praying that the sidewalk be built by frontage tax. We therefore recommend that the work be proceeded with to be paid for out of the general fund. The work at the outside will not cost more than $160, the same being done by day work and under the direction of your committee.

"We recommend that the hill on Second street be graded as petitioned for, the cost of the same not to exceed $200; that the work be done by day work under the direction of your committee and the expenditure to be met by the general fund.

"We recommend that the petition for sidewalk on Namayo avenue be referred back to petitioners for further signatures."

Edmiston—Picard. That the report of the board of works be adopted as read.

Strang—Bellamy. That the report of the town hall and market committee be laid on the table until next regular meeting of the council.

Cameron—Bellamy. That the report of the finance committee be adopted.

Report read from Mayor H. C. Wilson and Rev. Father A. Lacombe, O. M. I., giving the result of their trip as a delegation to Ottawa and other points. (The full report appeared in last issue.)

Rev. Father Lacombe addressed the council supplementing the written report.

Strang—Picard. That this council thank Rev. Father Lacombe a vote of thanks for the very kind and able assistance he rendered the mayor while accompanying him as a delegate to Ottawa and other points, in the interests of the town.

Mr. Jennings then addressed the council regarding the building of a railroad to the south side of the river, advocating a steam railroad.

THE CHOIR OF ST. JOACHIM'S CHURCH.

Communicated.
It is a blessing and a great satisfaction to Rev. Father Lacombe to have in his parish people who are so willing to help in the church service. The "plainchant" and other pieces of fine singing every Sunday are performed with talent and ability by the ladies and gentlemen of the choir. Sunday Sept. 6th we heard in the church of St. Joachim the most beautiful "Ave marie" rendered by a young lady accompanied by a able companion.

WHITE FISH LAKE.

A convention of teachers of Indian schools under the superintendence of the Methodist mission at White Fish lake, will be held at White Fish lake in November. A similar convention was held last spring at Saddle lake at which four schools were represented and two ordained ministers present. Essays were read and discussed. On school discipline, Use of the Indian Tongue in day schools, and the kindergarten system applied to Indian schools. An address was delivered and discussed on the difficulties of an Indian teacher. The meeting was both pleasant and profitable.

Threshing began at Saddle lake last week. Crops are light from the dry season. At White Fish lake they are also light. There is very little injury by frost.

SUPREME COURT.

The criminal case against Hewett for rape was tried on Thursday and Friday. The following was the jury: T. A. Stephen, foreman; P. W. Muller, A. V. Carpenter, T. Houston, Magnus Anderson, R. Foster, N. D. Beck appeared for the crown and J. C. F. Bow for the prisoner. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the prisoner was discharged.

In the case of the Queen against Ring the recognizance was declared forfeited and estreated and a writ of fieri facias issued, on which the sheriff proceeded to examine if the goods of the bondsmen were sufficient to meet the bail and if not to arrest them. Under this procedure A. E. Ring, father of the prisoner and one of his bondsmen, was arrested. On Friday Taylor moved to set aside the proceedings. Beck appeared for the crown. The judge held that the proceedings were regular and that the bondsmen Ring must remain in custody until he gave security that he would appear at the February sittings of the court and abide its decision.

The case of Dugay vs. Chave & Hetu was continued on Saturday.

On Saturday P. Desormeau was brought up on three charges connected with killing a cow at St. Albert. He pleaded guilty to the last charge of having taken away the meat of the animal. This morning he was sentenced to six months' hard labor, the four months which he had already spent in custody to count as part of the term.

The appeals against the town's assessment were being considered this morning.

SUPREME COURT JUDGMENT.

Joseph Adams vs. Alex. Cameron: The judgment of Judge Bouleau was received last mail in this matter which has been pending for over three years. Arguments were handed in last June.

Adams in 1892 obtained an order setting aside the accounting of Alex. Cameron as guardian of his (Adams) estate while he (Adams) was a lunatic, and Cameron was ordered to account anew. This he did by filing the old account stating that it was full and complete in every particular. Adams then filed a falsification of such accounting and charged claiming against Cameron in damages and old running accounts about $6,000. The evidence was taken before the clerks of the court and was exceedingly voluminous. The arguments of counsel were filed, being also very voluminous.

His Lordship disallowed all of Adams' claims for damages and old accounts and found that Cameron's first accounting was full and satisfactory. He however thought that in two instances Cameron should have exercised more prudence, and consequently deprived Cameron of costs against Adams. He therefore dismissed Adams' application without costs to either party.

Beck, Q. C., for Adams, Taylor, Q. C., for Alex. Cameron.

MASTERS AND SERVANTS.

The case of the Queen vs. Chave & Hetu, Arch. McLeod, complainant came up for argument on Wednesday afternoon before Judge Scott. A complaint of non-payment of wages had been laid by McLeod against his employer, Chave & Hetu, before magistrates under the masters and servants ordinance. The magistrates had referred the case to the judge under a certain section of the criminal code.

Mr. Beck for the employers contended that the ordinance was ultra vires.

1. Because it attempted to constitute non-payment of wages a criminal offence.

2. Because it attempted to constitute a new court which was beyond the power of the Territories.

3. Because in fact the action was a civil one and thereby ousted the jurisdiction of other courts.

Mr. Beck pointed out the history of the legislation at length.

Mr. Woodward, for the workmen, contended that

1. The offence constituted was one that fell within the power of the Territories in its right to protect morals, preserve order, and look after matters of private importance.

There is no inherent restriction in the office of a J. P. that prevents such a question being referred to them.

3. The power given the Territories in the administration of justice would give them power to constitute J. P.'s a court to hear such cases or to refer such cases to J. P.'s.

4. If the action is a civil one it falls with in the particular scope of Territorial legislation.

5. The relation of master and servant is so important as to justify the legislation and the authority of the Territories ought not to be hewn away too fine distinctions.

Premier Greenway estimates the wheat crop of Manitoba at 20,000,000 bushels of first class wheat and 5,000,000 bushels of lower grades.

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER.

A complimentary dinner was given in the Queen's hotel on Thursday evening last to Mr. J. A. Boyle, teller of the Imperial bank, the occasion being his prospective early removal to the Calgary branch. The affair was gotten up by the orchestral society and brass band. Some forty persons sat down to dinner. Dr. McInnis occupied the chair and P. L. McNamara the vice chair. Speeches highly complimentary to the guest of the evening were made by Mr. Kirkpatrick, manager of the Edmonton branch of the Imperial bank, Mayor Wilson, Councillor W. S. Edmiston and others. Mr. Boyle made a pleasing and witty reply. He was sorry to leave Edmonton as he had made more friends here than any where else he had been. In his position as teller in the bank Mr. Boyle has shown himself to be more than ordinarily fitted for the position, and no doubt a successful career is before him. His almost universal talent as a musician and his readiness to improve and willingness to employ that talent for the good and pleasure of the community has won him a high place in the opinion of the people of Edmonton, who while glad to see him receive deserved promotion will be sorry to lose him from their midst.
